AT THE OLD VIC

'Matthew Warchus's Old Vic goes from strength to strength. Here's to the next 50 for both theatre and play' The Independent on Rosencrantz & Guildenstern Are Dead 2017

'The Old Vic's contribution to London's rich cultural life is huge. Its innovative, brilliant productions, extensive education work and investment in the theatrical stars of the future are at the heart of this independent theatre's mission. It exists to lift us out of the everyday and entertain us throughout the year. As Mayor, I urge you all to support and sustain this brilliant theatre as it comes up to its 200th birthday in 2018.' Sadiq Khan – Mayor of London

Entertain Something New

The Old Vic is London's independent not-for-profit theatre. Whether you're looking for a comedy or new musical, a dramatic work or dance performance, a £10 preview, late-night pint or a show you can watch together as a family, there is always something new to entertain at The Old Vic.

For nearly 200 years, The Old Vic has been at the centre of its community, serving London as a theatre, a music hall, an education college, a temperance tavern and an opera house. It has staged every one of Shakespeare's plays at prices working Londoners could afford. And it is the birthplace of the Royal Ballet, the English National Opera and the National Theatre. Today, it enters its third century under the leadership of Artistic Director Matthew Warchus, who doesn't stop at creating world class theatre. His goal is for The Old Vic to be full. Full of life, full of creativity, full of people, full of opportunity, full of fun, full of hope.

A collective passion, belief in the power of theatre, inclusion and sense of adventure are the long held values that still drive The Old Vic forward today. As we look to the future, we do so with optimism, courage and an irrepressible spirit. And a knowledge that the commodity that will be most prized tomorrow is creative imagination. It is what we make, share, trade in, uphold; and it is why The Old Vic is as vital today as it was in 1818 when it first opened its doors.

Support London's only 199-year-old, independent, not-for-profit theatre to produce adventurous and thought-provoking entertainment, protect our building and inspire our creative community.
